I am a Extra Class license and have been a ham for over 30yrs. I came up thru all the original testing requirements, but now I think a change is needed. I enjoy Morse Code, but like other services it's usefullness has decreased over the last ten years and new modes have replaced it. I think that the ARRL plan is probably the best among all the plans that have been submitted.
Life changes and amateur radio has to change with it. So I recommend you impliment this plan as soon as possible
